

University of Oxford Term Dates 2021 – 2022 (to keep at home)

There are three terms: Michaelmas (autumn), Hilary (spring), and Trinity (summer). Each term is divided into eight weeks: the first week of Full Term is called 'First Week' and the last week of Full Term is known as 'Eighth Week'. The week before Full Term starts is 'Noughth Week'.

First-year undergraduate student members are expected to arrive in College between Saturday 3 October and Tuesday 6 October. We will ask you in September to book a date and time to move into your room. Thereafter, all student members are required to return to Oxford by noon on the Thursday of Nought Week. In most subjects 'Collections' (compulsory College exams) are set on the Friday and/or Saturday of the week before term (but not for Freshers in Michaelmas Term).

Term	Begins	Ends
Freshers' Week 2021 for undergraduates and graduates	Tuesday 5 October	Sunday 10 October
Michaelmas Term 2021	Sunday 10 October	Saturday 4 December
Hilary Term 2022	Thursday 13 January	Saturday 12 March
Trinity Term 2022	Thursday 21 April	Saturday 18 June

Students must not leave Oxford before the last Saturday of term without the prior permission of their Director of Studies or the Dean. In some subjects, students may be required to stay in Oxford beyond the end of Hilary or Trinity terms in order to sit University exams: please check with your tutors once you arrive in Oxford.

✂-----

University of Oxford Term Dates 2021 – 2022 (to keep in Oxford)

There are three terms: Michaelmas (autumn), Hilary (spring), and Trinity (summer). Each term is divided into eight weeks: the first week of Full Term is called 'First Week' and the last week of Full Term is known as 'Eighth Week'. The week before Full Term starts is 'Noughth Week'.

First-year undergraduate student members are expected to arrive in College between Saturday 3 October and Tuesday 6 October. We will ask you in September to book a date and time to move into your room. Thereafter, all student members are required to return to Oxford by noon on the Thursday of Nought Week. In most subjects 'Collections' (compulsory College exams) are set on the Friday and/or Saturday of the week before term (but not for Freshers in Michaelmas Term).

Term	Begins	Ends
Freshers' Week 2021 for undergraduates and graduates	Tuesday 5 October	Sunday 10 October
Michaelmas Term 2021	Sunday 10 October	Saturday 4 December
Hilary Term 2022	Thursday 13 January	Saturday 12 March
Trinity Term 2022	Thursday 21 April	Saturday 18 June

Students must not leave Oxford before the last Saturday of term without the prior permission of their Director of Studies or the Dean. In some subjects, students may be required to stay in Oxford beyond the end of Hilary or Trinity terms in order to sit University exams: please check with your tutors once you arrive in Oxford.